
neurosynchro Documentation

Release 0.1.0

Peter K. G. Williams and collaborators

Jul 24, 2018

Contents:

1	Indices and tables	3
----------	---------------------------	----------

Neurosynchro is a small Python package for creating and using neural networks to quickly approximate the coefficients needed for fully-polarized synchrotron radiative transfer. It builds on the Keras deep learning library.

CHAPTER 1

Indices and tables

- `genindex`
- `modindex`
- `search`